PRIORITY FREIGHT SCOOPS SUPPLY CHAIN WIN AT AUTOMOTIVE GLOBAL AWARDS 2022

November 2022

Priority Freight's continuous improvement and its fast, cost-effective and reliable supply chain solutions were recognised at the 2022 Automotive Global Awards, placing them above the competition to win the Supply Chain category.

Priority Freight is a leading time-critical logistics specialist operating via strategically-placed European hubs and a network of global agents to provide the most advanced, flexible and customer-centric logistics solutions. Its industry-leading response time and bespoke logistics solutions keep automotive supply chains moving across the world.

The Automotive Global Awards, last hosted pre-pandemic, returned for 2022. The much-coveted awards encompass all areas of the automotive industry, giving the opportunity for all individuals and companies who have excelled to be recognised and celebrated.

Andrew Austin, Group Operations Director at Priority Freight, said: "We are thrilled that the Automotive Global Awards have honoured us with the Supply Chain award."

Priority Freight continually strives to innovate and excel, and this award is welcome recognition of all the hard work that goes into making this goal a reality for our loyal customers."

Priority Freight excels in its levels of customer satisfaction, achieving an excellent customer retention rate. The customer is involved at every stage of a logistics movement, from confirmation of the job to the goods being delivered to its destination, plus key milestones updates along the way. Multilingual experts and a dedicated point of contact throughout the shipment provide reassurance, while a real-time tracking service gives instant cloud-based access to give customers complete visibility throughout the shipment.

Austin added: "We were up against some stiff competition and, after a four-year break, every company at the Destination Zero gala dinner wanted the win more than ever! Congratulations to all the other finalists and winners for their role in driving this incredible industry forward."
